Exhibit # 3:

Confidentiality Statement

POLICY:

Records and information gathered directly or indirectly which are related to personnel or clients of the State Technical Assistance Team, or clients of any agency contracted with by the Team are confidential and shall be released or revealed only to authorized persons as provided for by law, or with the written consent of that person.

GENERAL INFORMATION

Federal regulatory and state statutory requirements have been established to protect individuals who have dealings with the government from the indiscriminate disclosure of information regarding their life, problems, finances, etc. Some of those requirements are set out in very general terms; i.e., Section 208.120, RSMo (2000) prohibits all officers and employees of the State of Missouri from disclosing any information obtained by them in the discharge of their official duties relative to the identity of applicants for, or recipients of, benefits except in limited circumstances including purposes directly connected with the administration of public assistance. Other confidentiality provisions, such as Section 198.070.7 and 198.032, RSMo (2000) and Chapter 210, RSMo are more specific.

Confidentiality requirements can be violated inadvertently in many ways, and staff at all levels should constantly be alert for possible breaches of confidentiality. A violation of confidentiality may occur, for instance, when personnel discuss aspects of a client's record in a setting where persons not directly involved may overhear. When correspondence and records containing confidential information are being used in or out of the office, they should be protected as much as possible from view by an unauthorized person.

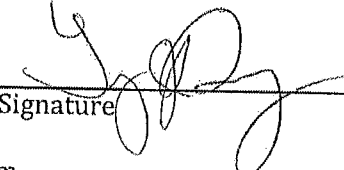

Workers shall clear with supervisors before sharing any information with anyone other than those directly involved with the situation. Telephone inquiries about clients or personnel should be handled with caution as there is no sure way of knowing who is calling and why. Such calls should be referred to the appropriate section; i.e., Personnel or the professional staff person connected with the case.

While there are specific types of information that are protected by law from disclosure, any other non-protected information is a "public record" covered by the state "Sunshine Law." Refer to Section 610.010 to 620.030, RSMo 2000 for additional information. There are some Unit records which are public records, but which contain names or information which must be redacted before allowing public access, such as complaint investigation reports, which contain the name or names of individual residents in a facility or names of persons, named in a complaint filed pursuant to Section 198.070, RSMo (2000).

If it is necessary to violate any aspect of a person's right to confidentiality at any time in order to protect either the individual or the health and safety of others, staff must document not only to whom information is given, but also reasons, and contact/clearance with supervisory staff.

I certify that I have read, understand, and will abide by the State Technical Assistance Team's Confidentiality Policy.

Dear Dr. Tracy Jane Dyer,

Congratulations! You have successfully completed the 10-year Maintenance of Certification (MOC) requirements. You have successfully submitted all five electronic MOC Reporting Forms, completed an ABP-approved Patient Safety Course, and passed the secure Part III MOC examination.

A new certificate will be mailed to you which will replace your current certificate that has an expiration date of 12/31/2016. Your new certificate will not have an expiration or end date and will remain valid, contingent upon continuing participation in the MOC program.

The ABP recognizes that some entities may still require evidence of certification to complete verification for credentialing purposes. For certification verification, we are asking credentialing administrators to use an annual re-verification date of January 31, or thereafter. The re-verification date is the date after which your certification status will remain unchanged for the rest of the year, unless there is a disciplinary action taken against you or you are no longer participating in MOC. This date is not reflective of individual MOC requirements, nor does it indicate certification or MOC cycle end dates. Your certification status can only change at the beginning of each year, unless certification is revoked for disciplinary reasons. By asking credentialing administrators for an annual re-verification date of January 31st or thereafter, they can obtain up-to-date information about your current certification status. The ABP will be developing a primary source, online certification verification service that can be accessed on our website at no cost. Until this program is available, primary source verification of certification status for our diplomates can be requested for a $35 processing fee for each verification. The Verification of Certification Request Form is accessible on our website (www.abpath.org).

Your requirements for the next ten years of continuing certification will begin January 2017. As in the past, your 2018 MOC Reporting Form will request medical licensure, practice information, continuing medical education and improvement in medical practice activities completed during the years of 2017 to 2018.

Again, congratulations on your successful completion of the 10-year MOC requirements; The ABP wishes for your continued success.

Sincerely,
