3.7

This proposal was developed through a community-engaged process that included input from ten meetings with community stakeholders across KCMO's Eastside. These stakeholders were primarily from neighborhood associations, businesses, faith-based organizations, and youth organizations. Input was also gathered throughout the University of Missouri-Kansas City's health professional schools' (Schools of Pharmacy, Medicine, Dentistry, Nursing and Health Sciences) deans and several department chairs who attended 3 meetings. Additional meetings were held with UMKC units that provided input which included the Center for Nelghborhoods, Multicultural Student Services Center, Roos Advocating for Change, Communications, Athletics Department, and Health Services Research Administration. Additionally, input was gathered from collaborative research partners representing faculty from several UMKC departments including the Bloch School, Center for Economic Information, Community Counseling and Assessment Services, SourceLink, Psychology, and Biomedical and Health Informatics, and from faculty and community partners who serve on the UMKC Health Equity Institute Steering Committee. We also sought input from Children's Mercy Kansas City research faculty. Lastly, we sought extensive input from Truman Medical Centers, the Black Health Care Coalition and the Kansas City Missouri Health Department to help inform strategic synergies between this project and their current and future work in providing COVID-19 related services and programming.

Proposal Overview: Our Healthy KC Eastside

Our Healthy KC Eastside (OHKCE) is community-wide project that aims to promote and deliver widespread COVID-19 vaccination and other health services with KCMO's most socially vulnerable community. Building on nearly two decades of large-scale collaborative community studies, we will fully engage community members in a multi-sectoral COVID-19 education, communication, and vaccination project. For the OHKCE project, we will also tap University of Missouri-Kansas City's, Truman Medical Center's, and the Black Health Care Coalition's extensive experience in providing health services in community and medical settings on KC's Eastside.

This project is important for several reasons. KC's Eastside has some of the highest socially vulnerable areas in Jackson County.¹ Eastside residents tend to be highly represented by minority populations, particularly African Americans, of lower-income and with less access to stable housing and transportation.¹.² Similar to other socially vulnerable communities across the country,³⁴⁴ the Eastside has experienced some of the highest rates of COVID-19 infections, hospitalizations, and deaths in Jackson County-KC.¹.⁶ Also, low vaccination rates persist in KC's Eastside's socially vulnerable areas.¹ Nationwide, factors reported to be associated with vaccine hesitancy, particularly among minorities, include medical mistrust, inconsistent messaging, myths, limited vaccination access, and racism.⁶⁻⁷ Our community partners have also stated that these multi-faceted factors contribute to vaccine hesitancy and poor COVID-19 outcomes among Eastside residents. This proposal aims to address these issues.

COVID-19 has also contributed to a drastic reduction in use of prevention health services.⁸⁻¹¹ In socially vulnerable areas, prevention health services are critically needed considering these areas were already burdened by high rates of chronic health conditions. Our own large-scale studies conducted on the KC Eastside have found high rates obesity, diabetes, cardiovascular disease, and mental health conditions.¹²⁻¹³

OUR APPROACH

The project will take place from June 1, 2021 - November 31, 2021. Our primary project outcomes, driven by Eastside community input, are to:

- · Significantly increase vaccination uptake, and
- Significantly increase use of prevention health services

We will use a multifaceted approach to implement this project, which includes:

- Engaging ≥120 community leaders and flaisons across the Eastside in 4 community sectors:
 - o Businesses, churches, neighborhood associations, and youth organizations
- Equipping community health liaisons with COVID-19 educational messaging communication tools
- · Expanding vaccination and health service access with thousands of Eastside community members
- Conducting multiple innovative health science research projects with community partners to improve tailored prevention strategies and data collection procedures with Eastside communities
- Measuring community impact with a proven project implementation model (RE-AIM) widely used to design and examine large-scale NIH and CDC community health projects and studies

This project could provide the first community-wide model for delivering wide-reaching COVID-19 vaccination and other health services by increasing the capacity of organizations on KC's Eastside with training, tailored education/communications tools, and support from academic and health partners.

SOCIALLY VULNERABILITY AND LOW KC EASTSIDE COVID-19 VACCINATION RATES

Social vulnerability is determined by the degree a community exhibits four primary social determinants: socioeconomic status, household composition/disability, minority status & language, and housing and transportation. These four determinants determine a community's social vulnerability index (SVI). SVI is assessed for census tracks based on ranked percentiles that range from 0 to 1, with higher values indicating greater vulnerability.

Eastside zip codes with some of the highest SVI rankings and inclusive of the most number of high-SVI census tracts are: 64106, 64109, 64127, 64128, 64129, and 64130 (see table below).

Not surprising, 4 of KCMO's six lowest life expectancy zip codes are on the Eastside and have some of the lowest life expectancy in KCMO. There is an 18.6-year difference from the lowest life expectancy zip codes to the highest in KCMO.

Social Vulnerability Index (SVI)

Priority SVI	# of SVI	Average SVI	Percent	Partially	Vaccinated (At Leas	t One Dose)
Zip Codes*	Tracts in 75 th Percentile or Higher*	for the Zip Code	African American	White	Black or African American	Hispanic or Latino
64106	4	.88	44%	22%	6%	17%
64109	4	.67	48%	23%	18%	15%
64127	6	.95	51%	11%	15%	9%
64128	6	.83	81%	9%	14%	19%
64129	3	.72	45%	12%	13%	9%
64130	4	.89	88%	13%	15%	28%

*Include ≤3 or more census tracts that are above the 75th percentile per Social Vulnerability Index (SVI)
Largest number of census tracts in the 75th percentile per the SVI

These Eastside zip codes are among some of the lowest partially vaccinated zip codes in Jackson County and are largely made up of African Americans.

Our studies with Eastside African American residents have also found high rates of underlying health conditions, such as hypertension, diabetes and obesity, ^{12-13,15-16} which further exacerbate COVID-19 burdens. These along with other Eastsiders are persons who most likely need to leave home to work, live in a crowded often multi-generational housing, use public transportation, and enter crowded workplaces where social distancing and personal protective equipment (PPE) have not been widely available. Together, these factors place them at higher risk of COVID-19 exposure to the virus and with great need for COVID-19 vaccination and other health services.

ENGAGING COMMUNITY SECTORS ACROSS THE EASTSIDE

We will build on lessons learned over the past 15 years in conducting large-scale, community-engaged studies in collaboration with KC Eastside community partners. Our history of creating equitable partnerships to address health inequities is based on Community-based Participatory Research principles to ensure our projects reflect the values, knowledge-base, strength, and experience of the Eastside. We will share leadership and ownership of the project with our Eastside partners in jointly implementing the project. To prepare this proposal, we had ten meetings with leaders in these sectors – businesses owners, pastors, neighborhood association presidents, and youth organization leaders – who contributed to the project's design and are already recruiting their peer organizations.

Role of Community Partners (≥60 partners)
Community partners participating in the project (see letters of support from 30 community partners representing the sectors) will:

- a) Assist in identifying research questions
- b) Assist designing project materials/procedures
- c) Identify 2-3 community influencers in the organizational to be trained as health liaisons
- d) Promote vaccination and health service events and other health programs in their venues
- e) Provide implementation evaluation data
- f) Assist with interpreting project findings, refining processes, and sharing findings

Role of Community Partner Influencers as Health Liaisons (≥120 health liaisons)

Community influencers serving as health liaisons in their organization will:

- a) Assist with coordinating/promoting vaccination and other health services with their constituents
- b) Be trained on COVID-19 topics and implement the project, which will include communicating the importance of COVID-19 vaccination and healthy behaviors using a project tool kit tailored for their sector
- c) Assist with recruitment of participants in a city-wide survey study focused on understanding factors related to receipt of COVID-19 vaccination and use of health services;
- d) provide information on how they are implementing the project with their organization and constituents

Memorandum of Agreements

Leaders of community partners (pastors, business owners, youth organization directors, neighborhood association presidents) will provide signed Memorandum of Agreements which will detail the role of: their organization, the community influencers who will serve as health liaisons, and UMKC and health partners.

Community Action Boards (CABs)

We will formalize an OHKCE Community Action Board (CAB) made of up sector leaders and will also engage our existing CABs (KC FAITH Initiative, Clergy Response Network, Building Bonds with Youth) to ensure full community engagement occurs across the project and to also plan for project maintenance.

EQUIPPING COMMUNITY INFLUENCERS WITH TRAINING AND COMMUNICATION TOOLS

Our successful approach to rapid design and delivery of large-scale health promotion projects that are tailored specifically for selected settings is enabled by actively engaging community members in the creation process. Among several tasks, the creative process includes identifying existing, naturalistic communication channels and appropriate materials/activities that can be readily delivered by community members. These materials/ activities will be packaged in easy-to-use tool kits to support community influencers, who will serve as health liaisons, in using effective communication to motivate their constituents to make an informed decision to get COVID-19 vaccinated and use health services.

In preparation for this proposal, we met with representatives from each sector to begin gathering information to build tool kits for the four sectors. Their suggestions are shown in the table below. The list of tools will be refined and actual materials/activities will be created with our Community Action Boards.

Community leaders and health liaisons will be trained to talk about COVID-19 vaccination and health services messages with support of the tool kits, with guidance from CDC's Vaccinate with Confidence initiative. Two trainings will be held: 1 training prior to faunch and 1 booster training, and will include:

- a) Training on COVID-19 vaccination (e.g., COVID-19 disparities on the Eastside, how vaccines were made and approved, benefits of vaccination to individuals and the community, potential vaccine side effects) topics and prevention health service (importance of safe and healthy behaviors, resources)
- b) Enhanced communication skills to share information and motivate vaccination and health service use
- c) Delivery of OHKCE Tool Kit materials and activities
- d) Project implementation reporting (monthly) using an easy-to-use online tracking system

Community health liaisons will participate in brief monthly check-ins to ensure they have needed materials and ensure their questions and accomplishments are discussed. Additionally, each sector will have a sectir community lead director, supported by the project, working alongside a sector UMKC director (see below).

EXPANDING HEALTH PREVENTION SERVICES AND PROGRAMS

To increase access to COVID-19 vaccinations and other health services (and programs) to address health inequities in KCMO's Eastside, community-based comprehensive health services will be delivered by several health organizations. These include: UMKC health professional schools (Schools of Medicine, Dentistry, Nursing and Health Sciences, and Pharmacy), UMKC's Community Counseling and Assessment Services, Truman Medical Center (TMC), and the Black Health Care Coalition. UMKC faculty, staff, students, community health agency partners, and community health workers. All will receive training in COVID-19 topics and will deliver services which will include, but are not limited to:

- a) COVID-19 vaccinations and testing. These services will be held at TMC's existing vaccination and testing sites on Hospital Hill and at a new site that TMC will open as a part of this project in Southeast KC. Smaller "pop-up" vaccination and health service events will be held in sector venues.
- b) Health screenings (e.g., COVID-19, blood glucose, hypertension, dental, mental health), other vaccinations (e.g., flu, HPV), and health education (e.g., health literacy, dental care, maternal and child health, disabilities) programs.
- c) Linkage to care services (e.g., health insurance including Medicaid, a medical home, medical appointment) and linkage to community resources (e.g., personal protective equipment, food, utility assistance) provided by community health workers.

CONDUCTING INNOVATIVE RESEARCH

OHKCE is primarily a health service delivery project to expand vaccinations, and prevention services and programs in KC's Eastside. To understand the impact of the project on increasing vaccination rates and use of health services, we will collect project data at multiple levels with:

- Participating organizations in each sector to understand the adoption and reach of the project (N=60 organizations), via an online implementation tracking database
- Community health liaisons in participating organizations to examine their implementation of the project (N=150-180 youth and adults ≥aged 16) via an online implementation tracking database
- Eastside community members (N=2,000 youth and adults ≥ aged 16) to understand their COVID-19 vaccination and health service use behaviors and other factors that contribute to these behaviors.
 They will complete 2 surveys during COVID-19 vaccination, health service, and other project events.

We will also use other methods of data collection to examine geographical impact, communication channels and social networks, and project feasibility (e.g., challenges, facilitators, accomplishments).

We conservatively anticipate that at least 10,000 people (inclusive of about 1,000 youth) will be directly exposed to this community-wide intervention (e.g., vaccinations, health screenings, exposure to information communicated or distributed by community health liaisons, prevention programs). Overall, we aim to vaccinate at least 5,000 people who may be directly or indirectly exposed to the project.

Additionally, 13 independent research studies will be conducted to more rigorously understand delivery and outcomes of prevention programs focused on several areas (e.g., physical activity, mental health, health literacy, vaccine hesitancy, use of linkage to care services, adolescent health). These studies will be led by faculty researchers located at UMKC and Children's Mercy Hospital Kansas City.

Overall, we anticipate over 3,000 Eastside residents will participate in one of these studies at some level. This will be a remarkable contribution in increasing participation in COVID-19 research with populations that have traditionally not participated in a research study and will aid in understanding COVID-19 vaccination and health service use along with outcomes of prevention services and programs. Findings from these studies can also be used to guide future county funding and studies to address health inequities on KC's Eastside. The table below provides and overview of these studies. More detailed information on the proposed studies will be provided upon request.

MEASURING IMPACT

The RE-AIM model will be used to guide the evaluation. RE-AIM helps to understand Reach, Effectiveness, Adoption, Implementation, and Maintenance of large-scale projects designed to bring about behavior change. RE-AIM has been used extensively by NIH and CDC researchers to examine individual, organization, and community level impact on receipt of health services and health outcomes.

Measuring Impact Using the RE-AIM Model

RE-AIM Components	RE-AIM Measures
Reach	 Number and proportion on persons reached with project Number of persons recruited to complete project surveys Number of intervention components persons were exposed to within project Extensiveness of social networks (communication) used by health liaisons
Effectiveness	Number and trends over time of persons fully vaccinated and who received health services impact of intervention exposure on receipt of vaccination and health services. Comparisons of vaccinations and health services received on Eastside with other Jackson County geographical areas where the project wasn't implemented. Individual, social, and other factors related to receipt of vaccination and health services.
Adoption	 Proportion of organizations approached that sign an agreement to implement the project Strategies used that were most successful in organizations adopting the project Number of community health liaisons trained to implement the project in each organization
Implementation	 Number of and type of tools delivered and how delivered Facilitators, challenges, and successes in implementing the project Number of vaccination and health service events completed in the community Number of referrals and follow-ups completed Number of University of Missouri-Kansas City and Truman Medical Center faculty, staff, and students providing health services at community events and in medical settings
Maintenance	 University of Missouri-Kansas City and Truman Medical Center plans for sustainability Participating organizations plan for sustainability established Ongoing Community Action Board meetings planned into the following years CDC and NIH grant funding pursued with project partners; funding pursued in collaboration with other longtime partners (KCMO Health Department) and with Jackson County.

OHKCE project impact will be assessed overall and with each of the four sectors using:

- a) Implementation data on contacts made, persons reached, materials distributed, and other project related activities collected from community health liaisons using an online data tracking system;
- b) Implementation data on vaccinations, health screenings, and other services/programs delivered and received as collected from health service organizations using an online system;
- c) Survey data on vaccine and health service beliefs/behaviors collected with 2,000 consented participants aged ≥16 and older at 2 timepoints, with UMKC Institutional Review Board approval;
- d) Geographical information systems to capture density of receipt of vaccinations and health services across the Eastside and other Jackson County areas;
- e) Information on feasibility (facilitators, challenges, and successes) will be collected using focus groups and interviews with sector leaders and community health lialsons within each sector.

Our UMKC Community Health Research Team and the Health Equity Institute

The UMKC Community Health Research Group (CHRG) is located in the UMKC School of Medicine Biomedical and Health Informatics Department conducts health disparity research with underserved populations through collaborative partnerships. The UMKC Health Equity Institute (HEI) was founded as a Chancellor's Office special initiative in 2019. The HEI aims to expand collaboration, communication, and innovation with community partners and across campus to address inequities in KC's urban Eastside area.

Jannette Berkley-Patton, PhD is the project's principal investigator and the Director of the CHRG and HEI. She has an endowed professorship in the UMKC School of Medicine, Department of Biomedical Health Informatics. Her research team has led many large-scale health behavior change interventions in KC Eastside. Also of note, she was born and raised on KC's Eastside and graduated from Paseo High School. Other key personnel of the CHRG and HEI team includes Carole Bowe Thompson, CHRG and HEI Project Director. Together, she and Dr. Berkley-Patton have grown the work of the CHRG over the past 15 years. The team includes Jenifer Allsworth, PhD, a leading epidemiologist with extensive experience in examining large datasets. The team also includes Steve Simon as a biostatistician and expert on conducting statistical analysis using multiple software programs. The team includes research associates, doctoral students, and undergraduate students from multiple disciplines across campus who receive training in the CHRG. Additionally, CHRG and HEI studies have included thousands of participants, primarily underserved minorities from KC's Eastside, particularly African Americans – a population that has traditionally been difficult to engage in research.

With faith-community-health-academic partnerships, we have conducted many large-scale studies that have examined uptake of prevention, screening, and linkage to care with underserved populations (see a sample of our published works in References^{12-13,16-16, 20-25}). These projects have focused on:

- COVID-19
- HIV and other sexually transmitted infections
- · Hepatitis C virus

- Diabetes and cardiovascular disease
- Mental health
- Dementia

We have also conducted city-wide studies on resilience with youth exposed to community violence and a city-wide study on health impacts (physical activity, access to health services and Ilvable wage jobs) of KCMO's one-of-a-kind free transit system with Eastside residents recruited from bus stops. We are currently conducting a religiously-tallored COVID-19 testing intervention study with 16 African American faith organizations on the Eastside (N=1,000 participants). We have collaborated with over 50 KCMO and KCKS churches, 10 churches in Alabama, and 6 churches in Jamaica, West Indies on our studies. Later this year, we will launch a a culturally-tailored diabetes prevention program with prediabetic African American TMC patients (N=360) who mostly reside in KC's Eastside. Participants in these projects will all be encouraged to get their COVID-19 vaccination and use of health services.

Our research team has conducted this work with extensive funding from the National Institutes of Health, Robert Wood Johnson Foundation, and Health Forward Foundation. We will continue to seek funding from these and other sources to maintain the project and build a lasting infrastructure to expand the work.

Dissemination of Project Findings. Lastly, our team along with our community, health, and academic partners will disseminate project findings through a KC citywide forum; within each Eastside community sector; at local, regional, and national conferences; and through peer-reviewed publications.
