County promises and covenants to make its best efforts to appropriate funds in accordance with this Agreement. B. That County will use its best efforts to obtain authorization and appropriation of such funds including, without limitation, the inclusion in its annual budget, a request for adequate funds to meet its obligation under this Agreement in full.

10. Conflict of Interest. Organization warrants that no officer or employee of the County, whether elected or appointed, shall, in any manner whatsoever, be interested in or receive any benefit from the profits or emoluments of this Agreement.

11. Severability. If any covenant or other provision of this Agreement is invalid, or incapable of being enforced by reason of any rule of law or public policy, all other conditions and provisions of this Agreement shall, nevertheless, remain in full force and effect; and no covenant or provision shall be deemed dependent upon any other covenant or provision unless so expressed herein.

C. Organization agrees to provide the County with certificates of insurance evidencing the above described coverage prior to the start of Services, and annually thereafter, if required by the County. Such certificates shall provide that the applicable insurance policies have been endorsed to provide a minimum of thirty days advance notice to the County in the event of cancellation, non-renewal, or reduction in limits by endorsement.

14. Term. The term of this Agreement shall commence January 1, 2023, and shall continue until December 31, 2023, unless sooner terminated pursuant to paragraph 8, 15, or 19 hereof. If this Agreement is terminated by either party, the County shall pay only for those services actually performed by Organization as verified by the County's audit.

15. Termination. This Agreement may be terminated for any reason or no reason by either of the parties upon thirty (30) days' written notice to the other party's designated fiscal representative. All services and payments shall continue through the effective date of termination. One of the most effective ways to prevent child harm and family mental health trauma is to support parents as they navigate the first three years of a child's life. ACEs study: Children who experience abuse, interrupted attachment, homelessness, food insecurity, and persistent trauma are susceptible to chronic disease, substance abuse, and mental health issues. CDC reports families with children who experience ACEs are more likely to cost communities hundreds of thousands of dollars in medical, mental health, and other government subsidized services.

Date Program was Initiated: 2010

What time period does this program run: All Year

Provide program description: CAPA's program uses the evidence-based Healthy Families America model to reduce the risk factors for adverse childhood experiences (ACEs) such as homelessness, food insecurity, and substance abuse. Program staff provide weekly, one-hour home-visits and/or virtual visits as well as wrap-around support for a duration of one to three years, until the enrolled child reaches the age of three. Program works closely with mothers to provide education on child development, promote well-child visits, screen for developmental milestones, and help with WIC, housing, school, and other basic needs.

Describe the benefits of this program to Jackson County Missouri: CAPA's program helps ensure that Jackson County mothers and new parents have the resources they need to give their children essential nurturing and care during the first three years of life. The program helps equip low-income, at-risk children with key Protective Factors and provides families with tools to raise their children in healthier, safer, and happier homes and neighborhoods. The program serves the whole family by meeting mothers where they are to provide social support, concrete support, and access on-going local community resources to help them be successful.

Describe target population to be served: The program serves expecting and new parents and their infants in Jackson County. Many are very low income and a majority are single, young mothers with young children. During 2022, 47% of mothers served identified as Black and 29% were Latina. To accommodate those who are not English-proficient, CAPA employs a Spanish-speaking Home Visitor and reserves funds to hire translation services, as needed.

What are the qualifications for participants: Pregnant women and new families with infants residing in Jackson County, Missouri, are able to enroll. They can remain in service until the primary child turns 3 years of age. Referrals typically come from health care providers, WIC offices, and the Department of Social Services. Referrals also come through a central referral system that is operated by the Kansas City Promise 1000 Home-Visiting Collaborative.

Identify the community need for your organization's program and services in Jackson County.

Data show that far too many children in the Jackson County and metropolitan community are experiencing child abuse, neglect, crime, and other ACEs in their own homes. According to the FY 2021 State of Missouri Child Abuse and Neglect Annual Report, 6,352 children were the subject of hotline reports and investigations in Jackson County alone. CAPA is a primary provider of services for children in Eastern Jackson County and one of only a handful of providers in the whole county that specialize in serving children that are victims of abuse.
