REQUEST SUMMARY	A resolution authorizing the Director of Finance & Purchasing to make payment to the Hickman Mills C-1 Schools District, funded by the County's Anti-Drug Sales Tax Fund for the 2015 fiscal year, for the purpose of promoting anti-drug and anti-violence and purposes, not to exceed $12,000.00. Background: The Hickman Mills C-1 School District has expressed interest in creating Trauma Informed Schools with a pilot program in three schools, whereby Trauma Informed training will be conducted by Truman Medical Center staff to address the increasing emotional and mental needs of students. District administration and the three building principals are committed to the effort of fully engaging in implementing trauma sensitive strategies within the Hickman Mills Schools District. As a result, staff will be able to train students to self-regulate so they are able to be successful at home and school. This program is consistent with COMBAT's anti-violence efforts in an area that has not recently been involved in COMBAT's Prevention programming. The Drug Commission discussed this proposal at its meeting on October 13, 2015, and authorized that this recommendation for funding be made to the Jackson County Legislature.

Dr. Stacey Daniels

The Hickman Mills C-1 Schools District would like to ask COMBAT for financial support in the amount of $12,000 for a pilot program in three of our schools: Freda Markley, Ervin Early Learning Center, and Smith-Hale Middle School to participate in Trauma Sensitive training. This training will be conducted by Truman Medical Center staff to address the increasing emotional and mental needs of our students.

District administration, and the three building principals are committed to the effort of fully engaging in the learning process to implement trauma sensitive strategies within the Hickman Mills C-1 Schools District. The Superintendent has publicly voiced his support of infusing trauma sensitive strategies in the manner in which we serve children and families to foster an environment in which staff are prepared to effectively meet the needs of our students suffering from trauma. Most importantly, as a result future professional development in the area of trauma sensitive strategies, staff will train students to self-regulate so they are able to be successful at home and school.

As a result of receiving the funds from COMBAT, the Hickman Mills C-1 Schools District will send three teams to the Trauma Sensitive Summit offered through Truman Medical Center. As a result of participating in the upcoming summit, those three teams will implement trauma sensitive strategies in each building beginning the 2016-17 school year. The team members will work collaboratively with the building principal to plan, implement and train building staff to effectively implement the planned trauma sensitive strategies and become Trauma Informed Schools.

The 2016-17 school year and beyond in the Hickman Mills C-1 Schools District will foster a long-range plan to ultimately establish teams in every building in the district. District administration will work to ensure there are long lasting impacts of the funding offered by COMBAT. We will utilize a train the trainer framework to infuse trauma sensitive strategies district wide in which the three original teams will train and mentor other teams until all buildings have been trained.

The Hickman Mills C-1 Schools District would like to thank you for any financial support to implement trauma sensitive strategies.

Thank you,
Yolanda Cargile, Ed.D

Trauma informed care is an approach to engaging people with histories of trauma that recognizes the presence of trauma symptoms and acknowledges the role that trauma has played in their lives.

TMC Behavioral Health provides training for staff, leaders, consumers, and others to facilitate the implementation of trauma-informed care and trauma-specific interventions in a range of service systems. TMC also provides case consultation services to assist mental health professionals and physicians who work with high-exposure populations or individuals who have experienced trauma. With a better collective understanding of trauma, more consumers and survivors will find their path to healing and wellness.
