5 COMMUNICATIONS WITH AND REPORTS OF THE COUNTY EXECUTIVE

Phil LeVota, County Executive, was present and passed out cookies to legislators and others in attendance. He expressed his excitement as he begins his first full week as County Executive. He mentioned the collaborative nature that has begun between the legislature, himself and his new staff.

He introduced his staff: Theresa Garza is his Chief of Staff, Steve Arbo is his County Manager and Lauren Powell is his Executive Assistant. Ms. Garza and Mr. Arbo made brief introductory statements.

County Executive LeVota gave an update regarding the employee health insurance rates. There was a 6% increase and the decision was made that the County absorb those costs with no increase to employees.

Mr. LeVota gave a report about property assessment relief. Partnering with the Legislature, he stated it was decided there will be a 15% cap on commercial property assessments to provide stability and fairness for businesses. Under the authority of the Home Rule Charter (Article III, Section 6, paragraph 9) the County Executive can correct errors in assessment and tax records. He briefly described the process that will be used to address the issues.

His final report was that Dogtober Fest was a success. The event was sponsored by Jackson County Parks + Rec. The goal for dog food collection was 5 tons, but a total of 6.2 tons of dog food was collected and donated to the Lee's Summit and Blue Springs animal shelters. There were 5,200 people in attendance.
