WHEREAS, Kansas City and Jackson County have a longstanding place in LGBTQ+ history, including the publication of The Phoenix: Midwest Homophile Voice in Kansas City from 1966 to 1972, one of the earliest LGBTQ+ publications in the United States and the first of its kind in the Midwest; and,

WHEREAS, Kansas City's Pride movement traces its roots to the 1970s, with the first local Pride Festival held in 1975 and subsequent Pride celebrations helping build visibility, community, and advocacy for LGBTQ+ residents throughout the region; and,

WHEREAS, what began as a single Pride celebration in Kansas City has expanded throughout Jackson County and the Kansas City metropolitan area, including the establishment of community Pride celebrations such as Independence Pride, as well as other events, festivals, educational programs, and celebrations that reflect the growing visibility, engagement, and contributions of LGBTQ+ residents across the region; and,

WHEREAS, Jackson County recognizes that the LGBTQ+ community is diverse and intersectional, and that Black, Latino, Indigenous, Asian American, and other LGBTQ+ people of color have played a critical role in advancing equality, culture, advocacy, and community throughout Jackson County and the Kansas City region; and,

WHEREAS, LGBTQ+ residents, families, advocates, educators, healthcare providers, faith leaders, artists, public servants, and community organizations continue to strengthen Jackson County through their leadership, service, and contributions to civic life; and,
